Ingredients

2. MelaTrepein

MelaTrepein™

Melanosomes are transferred to neighboring keratinocytes and then naturally degraded by autophagy. However, when the skin is constantly exposed to sunlight, pathogens, and hormone changes, the intracellular organelles and enzymes lose their functions and, as a result, melanosomes can not be degraded down. Accumulation of undegraded melanosomes in keratinocytes results in skin pigmentation.

MelaTrepein™ provides a dual targeting solution to prevent or reduce skin pigmentation by activating autophagy to break down melanosomes in keratinocytes and by inhibiting melanosome uptake into keratinocytes at the same time.

MelaTrepein™ degrades melanosome through activation of autophagy

Inhibition of autophagy by ATG5 Knock-Down decreases melanin reduction by MelaTrepein™ in keratinocyte

MelaTrepein™. Increases co-localization of autophagosome and melanosome in keratinocyte
